Lil’ Libros was created to encourage reading in two languages at the earliest age with books that celebrate inclusivity, culture, and authenticity.
Since 2014, Lil’ Libros has published 28 books with 11 new titles coming this Fall!

Our board books and picture books focus on different concepts such as biographies, first words, travel, storytelling, and more!
Language experts recommend: More high-quality, long-term dual-language programs can close the achievement gap in literacy between English learners and native English speakers, according to research by Cambridge University.

“If we can make children feel more whole and more ready and more accepted and welcomed and validate their prior knowledge and prior learning experiences, then we’ve gone a long way to making them ready to learn over the course of a lifetime.”

- Tara Fortune, immersion program director at the University of Minnesota’s Center for Advanced Research on Language Acquisition

Due to its unique S-shaped isthmus, Panama is the only place on earth where you can watch the warm sunrise on the Pacific Ocean and set on the Atlantic Ocean.

Diablos Rojos are school buses purchased from the United States for public transportation. Owners gave them each a personality by painting them in bright, colorful designs.

Fiestas Patrias is a series of national holidays held during the month of November. The five dates represent the steppingstones Panama took in becoming an independent country.

Architecturally stunning, the Bridge of the Americas is a road bridge connecting the North and the South American continents. From there, you can spot Cocolí Viejo on clear days!

The Panama Canal is a water passage built in 1914 to shorten the distances ships need to deliver goods between oceans. Every year, over 14,000 ships travel through.

Isla Mene, on Lake Gatun, is home to several native monkey species – from the mantled howler to Geoffroy’s tamarin. Hop on a boat and wave at the monkeys!

The flag of Panama is white, blue, and red. The white represents peace. The blue stands for purity and the Conservative Party. The red symbolizes authority and the Liberal Party.

Located on the Panamerican highway, Queros Chela offers a variety of empanadas and cheeses. If you’re in the city, you must stop here. There’s even a hashtag: #PanamaDoQdIgusto/roz!

Parque Omar is a cultural site that holds many events year-round. One of the most popular is Musikollon, a 4-day festival celebrating art and music. Fun for the entire family!
